

529

First Quarter 2019
Quarterly

Tax Season To-Dos

Tax Day is right around the corner. If you're still preparing to do your return, let's review what information you'll need to include:

▶ SHOW WHAT YOU SAVED

Ensure you've reported all your 2018 contributions to Bright Directions on your tax return. Remember: if married filing jointly, up to $20,000 of your college savings dollars qualify for an Illinois state income tax deduction.¹

▶ KNOW WHAT'S ELIGIBLE

As a reminder, 2018 529 contributions can be deducted on your upcoming tax return. But did you know that any contributions postmarked by December 31st are also eligible on this year's taxes — even if they weren't processed until 2019? These will be marked as "Prior Year Contributions" on your first quarter statement.

▶ REPORT WITHDRAWALS

If you took money out of a 529 for qualified expenses² last year, you should've received IRS Form 1099-Q by mail — you'll need this for your 2018 taxes. If the withdrawal was payable to your beneficiary, the form would've been sent to them.

▶ DISCLOSE LARGE GIFTS

If you or a loved one made a contribution over $15,000 to your child's Bright Directions account in 2018 — or you took advantage of the special five-year, front-loading election allowed for 529 plans — make sure you notify your tax professional so they can determine any potential gift tax filings.

▶ REMEMBER YOUR DEADLINE

The due date for filing 2018 taxes is April 15, 2019. Talk with your financial advisor if you need any assistance reporting college savings information on your return.

Naming a Successor Account Owner

Should the unthinkable happen to you, it's important that your child's college fund is protected. Fortunately, there's one simple way to ensure that the account is used for its intended purpose: name a successor account owner. That way, if you're not able to make decisions about the funds you've saved, someone you trust will be.

Visit BrightDirections.com/Forms to download the paperwork you'll need to name your successor.

Where Are Your Dollars Going?

Take time this year to re-evaluate how your college dollars are being invested with your financial advisor. Bright Directions has three portfolio categories to choose from:

Age-Based Portfolios: Adjust from aggressive investments when your child is younger, to more conservative options when they're closer to college age.

Target Portfolios: A fixed investment strategy for the life of the account.

Individual Fund Portfolios: A suite of over 40 portfolios with a variety of different investment strategies.

Be sure to take your own comfort level with risk into consideration, along with your child's college timeline before switching approaches. Talk with your financial advisor to help determine the right path for you.

The Bright Directions Advisor-Guided 529 College Savings Program is sponsored by the State of Illinois and administered by the Illinois State Treasurer, as Trustee. Union Bank & Trust Company serves as Program Manager and Northern Trust Securities, Inc., acts as Distributor. Investments in the Bright Directions Advisor-Guided 529 College Savings Program are not guaranteed or insured by the State of Illinois, the Illinois State Treasurer, Union Bank & Trust Company, Northern Trust Securities, Inc., the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, or any other entity.

An investor should consider the investment objectives, risks, and charges and expenses before investing. This and other important information is contained in the Bright Directions Advisor-Guided 529 College Savings Program Disclosure Statement, which can be obtained from your financial professional or at BrightDirections.com and should be read carefully before investing. You can lose money by investing in a portfolio. Each of the portfolios involves investment risks, which are described in the Program Disclosure Statement. Before you invest, consider whether your or the beneficiary's home state offers any state tax or other benefits such as financial aid, scholarship funds, and protection from creditors that are only available for investments in that state's 529 plan.

¹An individual who files an individual Illinois state income tax return will be able to deduct up to $10,000 per tax year (up to $20,000 for married taxpayers filing a joint Illinois state income tax return) for their total, combined contributions to the Bright Directions Advisor-Guided 529 College Savings Program, the Bright Start Direct-Sold College Savings Program, and College Illinois during that tax year. The $10,000 (individual) and $20,000 (joint) limit on deductions will apply to total contributions made without regard to whether the contributions are made to a single account or more than one account. The amount of any deduction previously taken for Illinois income tax purposes is added back to Illinois taxable income in the event an Account Owner takes a Nonqualified Withdrawal from an Account or if such assets are rolled over to a non-Illinois 529 plan. If Illinois tax rates have increased since the original contribution, the additional tax liability may exceed the tax savings from the deduction.

²Withdrawals used to pay for qualified higher education expenses are free from federal and Illinois state income tax. Qualified higher education expenses include tuition, fees, books, supplies, and equipment required for enrollment or attendance; certain room and board expenses incurred by students who are enrolled at least half-time; the purchase of computer or peripheral equipment, computer software, or Internet access and related services, if used primarily by the beneficiary during any of the years the beneficiary is enrolled at an eligible educational institution; and certain expenses for special needs services needed by a special needs beneficiary.

³The Morningstar Analyst Rating™ is not a credit or risk rating. It is a subjective evaluation performed by Morningstar's manager research group, which consists of various Morningstar, Inc. subsidiaries ("Manager Research Group"). In the United States, that subsidiary is Morningstar Research Services LLC, which is registered with and governed by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. The Manager Research Group evaluates funds based on five key pillars, which are process, performance, people, parent, and price. The Manager Research Group uses this five pillar evaluation to determine how they believe funds are likely to perform relative to a benchmark, or in the case of exchange-traded funds and index mutual funds, a relevant peer group, over the long term on a risk-adjusted basis. They consider quantitative and qualitative factors in their research, and the weight of each pillar may vary. The Analyst Rating scale is Gold, Silver, Bronze, Neutral, and Negative. A Morningstar Analyst Rating of Gold, Silver, or Bronze reflects the Manager Research Group's conviction in a fund's prospects for outperformance. Analyst Ratings ultimately reflect the Manager Research Group's overall assessment, are overseen by an Analyst Rating Committee, and are continuously monitored and reevaluated at least every 14 months. For more detailed information about Morningstar's Analyst Rating, including its methodology, please go to global.morningstar.com/managerdisclosures/. The Morningstar Analyst Rating (i) should not be used as the sole basis in evaluating a fund, (ii) involves unknown risks and uncertainties which may cause Analyst expectations not to occur or to differ significantly from what they expected, and (iii) should not be considered an offer or solicitation to buy or sell the fund. © 2018 Morningstar, Inc. All Rights Reserved. The information contained herein: (1) is proprietary to Morningstar; (2) may not be copied or distributed; and (3) is not warranted to be accurate, complete or timely. Neither Morningstar nor its content providers are responsible for any damages or losses arising from any use of this information. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.